(VIA PHILADEPHIA.)

By the ship Recovery, captain Thomas Jefferson, from Liverpool, we have the following:—

EMBDEN, (Germany,) March 4.

The French army of the Rhine under the duke of Auerstadt (Davoust) has broken up from its cantonment in the countries of Gatha, Hanau, &c. and is now on its march to the Danube. The staff of the army was on the 17th ult. removed from Erfurth, for the purpose of being established at Ulm. The army under Oudinot, which on the twentieth had head-quarters at Augsburgh at that date, comprised nearly 80,000 men.

Some Dutch regiments have passed the Mein on their march to Franconia. Several divisions of French troops from the Duchy of Berg, &c. have taken the same route, and all the carriages and horses in the countries through which they passed, were put in requisition for the conveyance.

A French army is to be formed in Saxony, with which the forces of the confederation of the Rhine are to act—several Westphalian regiments were on the 20th ult. under orders to proceed thither.

The French have already established an army of between 40 and 50,000 men in Italy, within a few miles of the Austrian frontiers. The Dalmatian army under Marmont has been broken up for the purpose of forming this new corps, but at present it consists chiefly of Italians. A reserve is forming near Brescia, and is to be joined by a body of Swiss troops. It is understood that Massena is again to have the command of the Italian army.

Count Mier arrived at Vienna on the 12th Feb. with dispatches from count Metternish, the Austrian ambassador at Paris, communicating, it is stated, the final decision of Bonaparte on the subject of his differences with the emperor Francis. Messengers were immediately dispatched to Petersburgh, Berlin, and Copenhagen, as also to the several Austrian governments, and orders were given for the necessary arrangements preparatory to placing the militia on permanent duty. The messenger, Napper, arrived from Paris on the 14th, and stated that previous to his departure the tradesmen belonging to the Austrian embassy had been directed to furnish their several accounts, in order to their being discharged.

A cordon of troops has been formed along the whole extent of the Austrian frontiers, and no person is permitted to pass without a passport from the imperial public chamber at Vienna. One hundred and fifty bakers at Vienna had been put in requisition for the service of an army. The Austrians are making great exertions to fortify the city of Ems, in Upper Austria, and have appointed 6000 soldiers, and a like number of peasants to that service.

The cabinet of Vienna, with a view to the farther augmentation of their army, has ordered the first and second battalions of reserve to be gradually incorporated with the regiments of the line, and has directed that third battalions of reserve be immediately formed.

The duke of Fruill (Duroc) accompanied by one of Bonaparte's aids-de-camp, on the night of the 2d ult. passed through Frankford, charged with an important mission to the court of St. Peterburgh.

The report of an early adjustment of the differences which subsist between Russia and Britain, had induced a considerable reduction in the price of colonial produce in the former country.

It is stated that the emperor Alexander had appointed prince Prosotowsky, who commands the Russian armies in Moldavia and Wallachia, his plenipentiary at the Congress of peace with the Porte.

Louis Bonaparte was at Utrecht, taking measures to relieve the country suffering under the inundations, when he received dispatches from Napoleon requiring the immediate march of 15,000 Dutch troops into Bavaria, to act with the French army under the duke of Auerstadt, and expressing an expectation that another corps of like force would be in readiness to take the same route by the middle of March. Louis sent off couriers to Amsterdam, &c. calling his ministers & councillors of state to Utrecht, there, after much deliberation, his council, declared to him the incompetency of the nation to sustain the burthens of a new war and protested against the employment of so large a force in a service so unconnected with the interests of the country. Several regiments were, however, immediately put in motion, and had, at the date of the last accounts arrived on the Mein.

VIENNA, Feb. 17.

The measures adopted for the security of the country continue to be carried into execution with the most unremitting assiduity and zeal. All those who are absent on leave have been ordered to join their regiments forthwith. The officers who were in this capital have received orders to repair to their repective regiments. In the interior of Austria, various corps are in motion to advance to the frontiers.

It is rumored that the Wirtemberg envoy M. Beroldingen, and the Bavarian, M. Bechberg, have left Vienna.

February 19.

The depression of the public funds have become alarming. Bank stock has fallen from 84 to 70; other stock is sunk in proprotion.

It is now certain, that no negociation for peace between Russia and Turkey will take place.

PARIS, March 6.

The official paper of to-day contains the following:

"Here is a second intercepted letter from the writer of the official Vienna paper to the writer of the Hamburgh paper. We pledge ourselves for the authenticity of the latter as well as the former. We abstain from every kind of remark:

"VIENNA, FEB. 15.

"Sixty thousand frontier troops have received orders to repair towards the interior of Austria. A considerable army, above all, well furnished with cavalry, is already in Bohemia, on account of the encrease of the French force in the territory of Bayreuth. Fifty thousand men are assembled near Vienna, in order, according to the pressure of circumstances, to repair to the interior, to Upper Austria, or Salzburg.—The garrison of Vienna has not yet received orders to put itself in motion. As soon as it marches out, the militia are to do their service, and occupy the barracks.

"Though there were already a number of troops on the other side of the Ens, yet a few more regiments had been sent.—Transport pontoons have already been bro't hither.

"The army is furnished with every thing, except that hitherto, no surgeons have been appointed.

"At Constantinople an occurrence has taken place, which may throw some light upon the situation of Austria. The Austrian Internuncio, Baron Von Sturmur, had on occasion of the marriage of one of his kinsmen, given a dinner, and invited to it the secretary of the English legation. The French Charge d'Affaires, Mons. Latour Mauburg, who was also invited, wrote to M. Von Sturmer, that he could not be present at any entertainment while an enemy of France was of the party. M. Von Sturmer not answering this letter, M. Latour Mauburg communicated the circumstance to the diplomatic agents, and invited them to break off all intercourse with M. Von Sturmer; which all the agents who were at Constantinople have carried into effect.

We hear again that a number of Russian troops have lately assembled near the frontiers of Austria, more especially since M. Von Sturmer so openly threw off the mask at Constantinople.

March 7.

The official paper of to-day contains further, a report from the minister of marine, Decres, to his majesty, whence it appears, that rear ad. Willaumez, in consequence of his majesty's command, sailed from Brest on the 21st of February, with 8 ships of the line and 2 frigates, in order to attack the enemy who was blockading the harbors of L'Orient and Isle of d'Aix, with 2 squadrons, consisting each of 4 sail of the line, and some frigates; and so relieve those harbors from the blockade. On the evening of the same day, the rear admiral appeared off L'Orient, whence three frigates were to join him; but these could not get out in the evening, and as the rear admiral could not wait for them, on the following day, when these frigates did get out, they were placed in a very unpleasant situation, and were obliged, being chased by four of the enemy's ships, to retreat towards the Sables roads, where, being aided by the forts, they defended themselves for three hours most obstinately against the superior force of the enemy, and at length compelled him to retreat.

In the mean while the rear admiral pursued his voyage, and reached the Basque Roads on the 24th of Feb. where, however, he did not find the enemy, who having received intelligence of the approach of the French squadron had escaped. The operation therefore has effected only this, that the squadron of Brest has united itself with the division of Rochefort in the roads of Isle d'Aix; and that the enemy being driven from before L'Orient, captain Tronde has been able to run out with his division, to fulfil the mission which the emperor has intrusted to him.

LONDON, March 9.

Yesterday colonel Wardle moved in the House of Commons, an address to the king for the removal of the duke of York from the command of the army. This motion was opposed by Mr. Burton and Mr. Percival (C. of E.) who declared his intention not only to oppose the motion but to move an address highly approbatory of the conduct of the noble duke as commander in chief; and that his removal would be highly injurious to the army, and public service. Mr. P. reprobated the connexion with Mrs. C. No decision was had on the motion.

The Russians, we learn, have marched a body of troops on the ice across the Gulf of Bothnia, captured the Swedish island of Aland, and were preparing ice boats for an expedition to Sweden proper. The distance from Aland to the main is about 80 miles.

March 12.

NAVAL AFFAIRS.—The Gazettee contains a letter from admiral Stopford, dated on board the Cæsar, near Belair light house, March 2d; which states, that the French Brest fleet then remained at the Isle d'Aix, consisting of ten sail of the line, four frigates, and the Calcutta. The eleventh ship of the line was bilged on the shoal within l'Isle d'Aix—She is the Warsaw, a new 80. Of the three French frigates, which ran under Sables d'Olonne, one was bilged and abandoned; and the other two up an inlet where they grounded every low water. A western swell which was set in would destroy them.

March 13.

The Hope, sloop of war, from Lisbon is arrived at Plymouth with dispatches, brings nothing new, as the accounts by the last packet are of a later date; on the 6th inst. she fell in with the Surveillante frigate, and a fleet from the Brazils, and were informed that on the 1st inst. they saw six sail of French men of war steering S. W. The Walsingham packet arrived from Lisbon, saw on the 1st inst. in lat. 47, six large ships steering N. W.

Three French men of war have slipt out from L'Orient, and are destined on an important expedition. They were seen on the 2d inst. in lat. 48, long. 14, under a press of sail, and it is believed that they have a most interesting object in view.

Our Falmouth letter says "The Surveillante, on the 3d March, in lat. 40, 30, long. 10, 12, saw four sail of the line and three frigates, lying to, to leeward, and in the act of burning a brig; but several large ships, apparently of the line, appearing to windward, they crowded all sail, and stood to the westward.

The first is undoubtedly the L'Orient squadron; the latter supposed to be admiral Duckworth in pursuit.

OFFICIAL FROM SPAIN.

On the 12th Feb. the head quarters of the Spanish army was at La Carolina, under gen. Urbinat—The duke d'Infantado had been unfortunate, and was removed. The Supreme Junta remained at Seville. Gen. Abidia had been appointed minister of war. A French army of 25,000 was preparing to enter Estramadura. Gen. Cula, with 16000 Spanish troops was at Truvilla. At Alacantra there was a Portuguese and British division, amounting to 14,000. The French had advanced to Cindad Rodrigo. Soult was at Betanzos, the 28th Jan. Romana had entered Portugal. The 40th and three other British regiments were at Seville, on the way to join Urbina's army at La Carolina, and to defend the Sierra Morena. The Spanish army at La Mancha was looking their enemy in the face.

March 14.

There is reason to believe, that the intelligence relative to Saragossa in one of the unofficial Paris papers, is not true and that that noble city still holds out. Letters have been received from the immediate neighborhood of Saragossa which state that on the 25th ult. it was still in possession of the Patriots. The French papers had stated it to have surrendered on the 21st.

The amount of the exchequer bills presented to be funded, amounted at the close of yesterday, being the third day, to six millions pounds. The whole sum to be funded is only 8,000,000*l.*

Private letters from Holland report, that according to a secret article of the recent treaty between Great Britain and Turkey the Porte is to join Austria in the war against France, and Great Britain is to furnish the Turkish government with arms and ammunition at Malta on the Morea. The intelligence, it is said, comes from Malta.

The Cotton Planter arrived at Greenock Monday se'nnight from St. Mary's River and brought American papers to the 20th January.

March 15.

Though the British regiments which sailed from Lisbon for Cadiz have not been permitted to land at Cadiz, they have been supplied with every convenience, and it is not supposed that any want of confidence on the part of the Spanish government in the English, has prevented their landing. Upwards of 400 British seamen have been invited by the government of Cadiz into Cadiz to assist in rigging and trimming the French and Spanish vessels lying in the inner harbor, in order to bring them into the outer bay, and fit them for sea.

No immediate danger appears to threaten Cadiz. All the passes between it and the enemy are well watched and defended. The French have not yet advanced towards Andalusia.

The prevailing expectation at Hamburgh was, that Russia would join the emperor of Germany, should he be compelled to defend himself against the tyrannical demands of Bonaparte.

A statement has appeared in some newspapers, which we are happy in being able to say is wholly without foundation, namely, that the king of Prussia had, in compliance with a mandate of Bonaparte, delivered up his minister, the baron de Stein, as a victim to his resentment. We are informed from a credible source, that as soon as the Moniteur, containing the tyrants decree against this patriotic minister, reached Berlin, he immediately resigned his official situation, and made his escape to the Austrian territory, where he has found protection and a kind reception.

March 16.

We received this morning the following letter from Dover:—

"DOVER, March 15.

"A boat with two foreigners arrived to day, bringing over 2 British officers who had made their escape—one is Mr. Mansell, son to the Bishop of Aristol, who was taken with capt. Right, in the Vinzengo. I understand that they bring an account of war between Austria and France being on the point of taking place, in which it is expected that Russia, Prussia, and Turkey will join. They embarked at Middleburg in Holland and had been at sea two nights and two days, and in great danger of being lost."

BY THE LAST MAIL.

NEW YORK, May 3.

More of the French fleet.

We learn by the brig Mary, from St. Bartholomews, that there were at the Saints, near Guadaloupe, three French ships of the line, and four frigates, having on board 1,500 troops, blockaded by four British sail of the line, and 5 frigates. In addition to this force, a reinforcement of 4 sail of the line and 3,000 troops, were hourly expected from Barbadoes, when it was determined to take the Island called the Saints, as well as the French fleet blockaded at that place.

We further learn, that the British brig of war Netley, in lat. 19, 45, long. 16, was chased by a French man of war, belonging to a fleet of 13 sail, which from the course they were steering, must have been bound to the West Indies.

A letter from St. Croix, of the 9th of April, to one of the first commercial houses in this city, states, that the British had already got possession of an important height at the Saints, where it was in their power to destroy the French fleet at that place.

In a few days, we shall probably have some interesting news relative to these fleets.

We further learn by the Lovinia, in 17 days from St. Barts, that ad. Cochrane was blockading Guadaloupe, and that a large force from Martinique, Barbadoes, &c. had sailed to join him, in order to attack that island.

We have a letter from capt. Mark Lynch, of the 13th ult. stating, that a number of French armed vessels and corvettes from France, had arrived at Martinique after the capture of that place, and were, of course, made prizes.

TO LET,

A convenient, small Brick Tenement, on Patrick-street, a few doors north of King-street.

SATURDAY, MAY 6.

Virginia Election.

The following is a complete list of the members elected to the next Congress from the state of Virginia:

John W. Eppes, Daniel Sheffey, Wilson C. Nicholas, John Randolph, Peterson Goodwin, John Clopton, Thos. Gholson, jun. Thomas Newton, Burwell Bassett, Wm. A. Burwell, Walter Jones, Jacob Swoope, J. Breckenridge, John Dawson, John T. Roane, John Love, John G. Jackson, Joseph Lewis, Matthew Clay, Edwin Gray, J. Stephenson, John Smith.

Extract of a letter from Cadiz dated February 11th received in New York.

"On the 5th instant, an English frigate arrived here from Lisbon, having under her convoy eleven transports with 2300 men on board, who it is said will not be landed here, but at Ysla, and proceed from thence to Seville, where there are 7 or 800 more making in all about three thousand; supposed to be the amount of the whole British force on the continent."

On the 18th of February two British Regiments from England, were on board the transports at Cadiz, and had not landed.

It is said, that count Toltikoff is to be appointed Russian minister of foreign affairs in the place of count Romanzow. The latter being devoted to France, is a circumstance, whence it is inferred that the sentiments of Russia towards that nation has undergone some change.

Bonaparte has insolently demanded from the king of Prussia, that his faithful minister baron von Stein should be delivered to him.

Extract of a letter from Bordeaux, to a commercial house in New York, dated March 18 1809.

"Business has been generally inactive for the last three months, but our markets being very scantily supplied, foreign produce has gradually advanced in price—As no spirit of speculation has manifested itself in any branch of trade, we no longer witness those sudden and important fluctuations in the value of goods which so frequently occurred last year. Our markets are consequently governed by the wants for consumption, and of course exhibit greater stability in prices. Annexed you have the quotations of the day founded on real sales—I see no probability of any prompt political changes that will materially change the face of our commercial affairs. Austria being on the eve of being drawn into a ruinous war with France and Russia, by her backwardness in executing the measures and following the system adopted by those great powers, we must naturally infer that the latter are determined in said measures. Their execution will continue to be rigorously observed in France and her immediate dependencies. This removes all prospect of a speedy re-establishment of neutral commerce, and of the opening of our communications with the United States, but I still hope for some favorable change by the end of the year.

"The domestic productions of this country finding no vent by exportation are at very reduced prices.

"I have received advices from Paris, reporting that by an imperial decision, the embargo for some time past existing on American vessels, was removed from those not under sequestration or difficulties, but on conditions and under restrictions that will render the liberty allowed such vessels nearly or quite illusory. The ships are to be placed at the disposition of the American minister, who will doubtless instruct the consuls in the seaports to take measures to oblige them to return direct to the U. States. Both vessels and cargoes are also required to furnish bonds to the same effect at the Custom houses, which will only be cancelled on the production of certificates from the French consuls in America, proving that the ships have complied with the bonds, and the cargoes landed from them consist of the productions of the French empire. But few persons will contract these embarrassing obligations and expose property to the almost certainty of capture by the British, as no prospect of benefits could arise from such complicated risks."

UNITED STATES AND FRANCE.—With France we have war only to expect. The citizens of that power cry peace, peace, and there is no peace. The editor of the American Citizen has clearly shewn that we have right to expect, because Napoleon has declared that his decrees "shall be abrogated and null in fact, so soon as the English government shall have returned to those principles of the law of nations, which are equally the principles of justice and honor"—that they will be "abrogated" in consequence of the settlement between us and Britain. It is the most unlikely thing in the world. Bonaparte can never bring independent powers to recognize his "law of nations" as the same editor proves beyond question:

"What are the principles of the law of nations as expounded by Napoleon in the preamble to his Milan decree? First, that a neutral vessel shall not for any purpose be visited by a belligerent: 2d, that the neutral flag shall not cover enemy property. The Milan decree is to be continued until England returns to those principles!

"The principles which Bonaparte terms the law of nations, form no part, neither of that code or of the custom of nations. Not a writer on the law of nations acknowledges them; not a nation in the world either, is in its intercourse with another nation, governed by them. Our own treaty with Napoleon, which was in full force when he passed his decress, but which were violated by them, admits the right of a belligerent to visit a neutral ship, and it does not admit that the neutral flag shall protect enemy property. Every nation acknowledges contraband of war, and thence follows the right of the belligerent to visit the neutral. That the list of contraband is more or less extended by the conventional law, according to the convenience of treating nations, is admitted, but yet all admit contraband and consign it to belligerent seizure. So of enemy property. See Mr. Jefferson's letter to Mr. Genet. England therefore cannot return to those principles which Bonaparte terms the law of nations, for she never either acknowledged or practised upon them not being the principles of the law of nations."

But there are other reasons, which have not occurred to Mr. Cheetham, which go conclusively to prove that we must have war with Bonaparte. He long since declared war between us and England, and instead of making war with that power, we have made a firm and no doubt a permanent peace! He will unquestionably attempt to punish us for disobedience of orders, and unfortunately he has the means of doing it, to a great extent, in his own hands. He has an immense amount of our property sequestered, and how sequestered? Why, as security for our good behavior in obeying his mandate. This has been officially announced to us in terms as clear and unambiguous as words are capable of expressing. Who can doubt then, that, on hearing of our arrangement with England, he will immediately confiscate every cent of that property? The property itself will be a temptation which he cannot resist, when such a pretext presents itself to palliate its condemnation, to say nothing of his resentment against us for making terms with his enemy. Pressed at the same time by G. Britain, by Spain, by Austria, and by Turkey, it is indeed possible that he may for once listen to reason. But it is only one chance in a thousand.

[Freeman's Journal.

The pacific state of our country, says a citizen, doubtless will turn the attention of congress to the progression of the United States, such as the cutting of canals, and above all, the immediate turnpiking of the public roads on which the mail travels, from north to south, and causing bridges to be erected over the various runs and waters which are now crossed frequently with great difficulty and danger. From Washington City to Wilmington in the Delaware state, the rout is peculiarly bad, and was almost impassable the latter part of the last winter. These are serious evils to the affairs of government as well as to individuals, and in all well regulated countries, good public roads and safe bridges, are among the first considerations of government.

USEFUL PROPERTIES OF
Patent Washing Machine.

THIS highly useful Machine is found by experience to excel any hitherto in use. It will wash as many cloaths (by the assistance of one person) in an hour as can be washed in a whole day, without the possibility of injuring, fretting or tearing the most delicate article, and with less than half the quantity of soap. It occupies very little more space than the common wash-tub, and with the least care will not create any slop or wet—the construction is very simple and attended with little expence. A further description of its qualities is now deemed unnecessary, as it is presumed none will purchase without examining it.

We the subscribers do hereby certify that we have found, on trial, the above named Machine to answer fully the above description. Given under our hands this 5th day of May, A. D. 1809.

BOOKSELLER, KING-STREET,

The following highly valuable MEDICINE

Price 3 dollars per bottle.

DR. JEBB'S

NATURE'S RESTORATIVE,

A BALSAMIC CORDIAL.

THIS cordial, so justly celebrated throughout Great Britain and the continent of Europe, for its superior efficacy in the cure of all disorders excited by nervous irritability, as well as in complaints of complete debility, whether arising from irregularities of living, long continued residence in warm climates, intemperate pursuits of excessive pleasures, or that destructive habit of inconsiderate youth which brings on so prematurely the infirmites of old age.

In removing pulmonary affections, asthmas, and all disorders of the lungs, it is the most powerful remedy ever yet found, and the relief it has afforded even in the last stage of consumptions, is without a parallel; with regard to its efficacy in this baneful, and unfortunately the prevailing disorder in this country (consumption) its superiority is such as to have copplanted every other medicine.

Those who in advanced life feel the consequences of youthful excess, will find themselves restored to health and strength, and all hose melancholy symptoms removed, which are the general effects of such causes.

In short, animated by the uniform success this invaluable cordial has experienced in Europe, the thousands it has renovated, when bending under the pressure of nervous, consumptive or hypochondriacal disorders (many attested proofs of which from eminently distinguished persons in this quarter of the globe, are now in the possession of the proprietor here, some few of which are herein published) have determined the introduction of it into this continent, where its efficacies must soon become so prized as to make it considered a beneficent remedy not to be dispensed with bly those who are anxious to preserve or acquire their health.

The chief ingredient of this cordial is a pant whose rare and precious salutary virtues were well known to the Arabians during the 8th and 9th centuries, when that people shone conspicuous over all the nations of the world for their learning and skill in eradicatind renoval diseases incident to the human frame, renovating infirmity to vigour, and restoring the sickly to sound and rosy health, and which as known at this time by their descendants, and used and experienced as the most sovereign remedy for decayed constitutions, and every species of nervous disorders. This celebrated restorative plant has also been highly estimated for ages past, amongst the most enlightened nations of Greece, and considered by those wise inhabitants as one of the first of their blessings.

This cordial is also rich and fine in flavor, most grateful to the palate, and the most enlivening to the spirits of any yet offered to the public.

ALSO,

Dr. Tissot's celebrated Gout and Rheumatic Drops.

(Price, Two Dollars per bottle.)

NOTHING is of more importance than the preservation of health—this common laced remark however is TOO OFTEN FORGOTTEN, whilst we are active and strong—and prevention of pain, which is superior to its cure, is not sufficiently attended to by any description of persons. Among those disorders which require the most early and unremitting efforts to eradicate and overcome, none have a stronger claim upon our notice than the Gout, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Weakness of the Joints, Sprains, Gleets, the Stone and Gravel, the Cramp and every species of Rheumatic Pains from whatever cause they may have originated—and hence every relief which can be administered is too valuable to be forgotten.—Those persons whose avocations peculiarly expose them to colds, &c. cannot be too anxious always to possess immediate aid. Sea-faring persons, travellers, &c. ought constantly to carry with them that medicine which will counteract the unpleasans effects of their perilous duties, and especially those pains to which their situation must expose them. To those who reside in or visit the West-Indies, and ther warm climates, theywill be found upon trial to convey the most lasting service and will gradually destroy all tendency to disease in the human frame, and preserve health and vigor. Although a great variety of prescriptions have been published to cure the disorders enumerated above, none has yet equalled the GOUT AND RHEUMATIC DROPS of DR. TISSOT, which are celebrated throughout the European continent, and whose unbounded benefits are fully authenticated by certificates already published of gentlemen so well known in America, being of the first consequence in the state of Maryland: General Charles Ridgely, of Hampton; John Gibson, Esq. one of the directors of the Farmers' Bank of Maryland; John Macubbin, Esq. Mrs. Macubbin, his wife; and Mrs. Ryan, of Calton-

Ample certificates and affidavits of the beneficial effects of these medicines may be seen by applying as above.

One Hundred Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY, from the subscribers, two Slaves, named BILLY and NELLY.—Billy is a mulatto man, and sometimes calls himself WILLIAM JORDAN AUGUSTUS—his color nearly as light and approaches that of a white man, his hair is straight and he generally wears it platted and turned up behind with a comb—his visage is remarkably thin and his cheek bones high—he has been brought up in the house and is a very good dining room servant, is about 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, very straight built, his constitution is not very strong and he is subject to indisposition—he is about 30 years of age.

NELLY is tall and rather inclined toward corpulency, a tawney color and about forty five years of age.

They went off together as man and wife but it is very probable Billy will attempt to pass as a white man and will endeavor to sell Nelly as his slave.

The above reward will be paid for the apprehension and securing of the said Slaves if taken up on the north side of the river Potomac, and information given thereof to the respective proprietors. A reasonable reward will be given if taken within the state of Virginia, and reasonable charges will be paid if brought home.
